

DAILY — FIX-IT

1. Have you seen this photograph of Amelia Earhart at the controls of a airplane?

2. She is wearing goggles, and is smiling happy.

3. A friend of mine has Eleanor Roosevelt's autograph.

4. Wow. How much money is it worth!

5. Early airplanes had double wings, the pilot sat in an open cockpit.

6. They flew very carefully.

7. Amelia Earhart was an adventurer, and he was also an expert pilot.

8. If she were alive today she'd probably be an astronaut.

9. Sal and me think this book is more good than the last one we read.

10. I'll be glad to learn more. About Amelia and Eleanor.
