

Name _____

Sequence

- Sequence is the order of events.

Directions Use Something to Do to answer the following questions.

1. Skim through the book. Write down some of the clue words the author uses to indicate the sequence of events in the story.

after, every morning, so, then, the next step, now

2. Reread page 5. What was the usual sequence of events every day after Grandpa moved in?

Dad left to open the café; the boy left for school; Grandpa settled into his chair to watch TV and sleep; the boy and his dad returned home at the end of the day to find Grandpa still in his chair.

3. Reread pages 7 and 8. What was the order of Grandpa's reactions to the pyrography set?

He asked what it was; he said he couldn't draw; he said he couldn't even read his own writing with a pen; he made one sign that said "Do not disturb! Sleeping!"

4. What was the sequence of events that led to Grandpa making his first fried pie?

Dad gave Grandpa and the boy some pies to eat one night; Grandpa and Dad remembered the fried pies Grandma used to make; the boy suggested that they make some fried pies; the boy dragged Grandpa into the kitchen to try.