

Song

A song can describe a feeling or event that is important to the writer. It uses repetition and rhyme to vividly express the writer's personality.

I Got a Funny Dog

Repetition such as funny dog makes the song fun.

I got a funny dog, funny dog,
funny dog.

I taught him how to jump,
but he lay there like a log.

I got a silly pup, silly pup, silly pup.

I told him to lie down,
but he kept on standing up.

I got a bouncy ball, bouncy ball,
bouncy ball,

I threw it to my dog,
but he just let it fall.

Crazy shows the writer's feelings.

I got a crazy pet, crazy pet, crazy pet.

He's sure to learn some tricks,
but he hasn't done it yet.