Draw Conclusions

- Drawing conclusions means using what you already know and what you read to make reasonable decisions about characters or events.

Directions Read the following passage. Then fill in the charts with facts from the passage and things you know that are related to the facts. Finally, write conclusions based on the facts and what you know.

There are no shopping malls in 1650. New England colonists have to make almost everything themselves. When they need clothes, they make yarn from sheep’s wool. Then they weave the yarn into wool cloth. Finally, they sew the cloth into clothing.

Men and boys in colonial New England wear shirts with long sleeves. Their pants, called breeches, go to their knees. They wear long stockings.

Girls dress like their mothers. They wear long wool dresses and aprons. Outdoors and indoors, they wear caps called coifs.
