Draw Conclusions

- Drawing conclusions is thinking about facts or details and deciding something about them.
- It can also mean figuring something out by thinking about it.

Directions Read the following passage. Then answer the questions below.

Tim had a new dog and he couldn't wait for his friend Doug to meet him. Tim called his dog Rascal. Rascal was pretty big and he liked to jump on people. When Doug saw Rascal, he didn't walk over and pet the dog. He didn't wave his hand to say "hello." Instead, he stayed by the door with his hands deep in his pockets. "Don't you want to pet my new dog?" Tim asked, astonished. Doug shook his head.

"Maybe later," Doug said, and then looked at his watch. "I forgot something. I better go home." Doug left quickly.

1-2. Write two facts that show how Doug acted.

He didn't pet the dog. He stayed by the door.

3-4. Identify two facts about what Doug said.

He said he would pet the dog later. He said he forgot something and had to go home.

5. What can you conclude about how Doug feels about dogs?

Doug is afraid of dogs.
